

The Thumbprint Signature Program

The Minnesota Bankers Association encourages banks throughout the state to participate in the Thumbprint Signature Program. The Program works like this:

Whenever non-account holders of the bank request check cashing services or when someone opens a new account, the bank will use an inkless pad to obtain the person's thumbprint on the check or on the signature card. If the check is a forged or stolen item, the thumbprint on the check can be used to identify the person who cashed the item.
